

NİMET ELİF ULUĞ CV

Nimet Elif Uluğ was born in İstanbul. She went to Beşiktaş Atatürk Anadolu High School. She graduated from Boğaziçi University, Turkish Language and Literature in 1992. She also finished İstanbul University, State Conservatory Part Time Musicology Department in 1988. She did her Master's Yıldız Teknik University, Atatürk Principles and Reforms History Department. In 2012, she is writing her thesis in the Master's Program in İstanbul Aydın University, Local Governments. She started to work as an instructor at Boğaziçi University, Turkish Language and Literature in 1995. She also teaches Turkish language and Literature for Foreigners at Beginner, Intermediate and Advanced levels to Boğaziçi University's only International Exchange and Erasmus students. In 2013, she finished her PhD dissertation at Boğaziçi University, History Department on 'Superstitious Beliefs in the Ottoman Empire (1839-1922)'. Her thesis was published by Libra Publishing as 'Superstitious Beliefs and Occult in Ottoman Empire between 1839 and 1922. This book was published with some addings in 2017 by Doğan Publishing. She is writing as a columnist in Shalom Newspaper in İstanbul and its name is 'Düne Bakış'. She is especially interested in comparative history of religions, Islam and Turkish Muslims, Popular Islam and its culture. She is married, has one daughter and one son. She speaks advanced English and Intermediate German.